

Top Performer with a Twist

FUJITSU Tablet LIFEBOOK T939

Productivity at the point of need

More than ever, the point of need for productivity can be anywhere – from coffee shop to construction site, clinic to conference room. With the right mobile technologies, enterprises can reach out to a new talent pool of highly mobile, flexible professionals, and give people greater choice in how and where they work while raising their own business productivity at the same time.

Flexible tablet notebooks have a vital role to play in mobile working styles. With the FUJITSU Tablet LIFEBOOK T939, your clients can combine the flexibility of a tablet with the power of a notebook. Its enterprise-grade security and take-anywhere slim lines enable people to be productive wherever they want and need to be – and not just when their device will allow.
